The Second Game.

The second game was an excellent performance with the pitchers playing the star roles. Clunn, the Savage slabster, held the Drummers to 5 hits and registered a shut out, while Willey allowed only 6 bingles and one score.

Three times the Hollanders filled the bases when Clunn was wild, but the Topekan always tightened up and headed off a run.

The Savages scored their winning The Savages scored their winning run in the second inning. Mayer walked and Jackson sacrificed him to second. Lattimore was safe on Rapps' error and Cochran singled scoring Mayer. The records:

In the first game "Old Hickory" Jackson's men had things pretty much their own way from the start. Bentley gave them a good send off in the second and third innings, allowing two runs in the second and three in the third. After that he was relived by Wideman, but the damage had already been done.

When the St. Joseph papers admit that Umpire O'Brien's decision at the plate giving the Drummers the second game Sunday was a "raw" one, there can be no doubt that Manager Jackson had a kick coming.

The St. Joe papers further state that O'Brien helped to provoke the fight by threatening to smash Jackson's nose. However, fans should be considerate enough to remember that O'Brien is merely another cast off um-pire that O'Neill has picked up.

Undoubtedly, the officiating in the Western league is becoming unbear-able. If conditions don't improve the club owners had better carry their economy policies a step further and do their own umpiring.

The players and managers of the teams have been severely criticised this season for "baiting the officials." Topeka players have been especially criticised. But when a fellow is fighting with all the energy he has in him and then sees his efforts go for naught on rotten decisions it is human nature for him to set up a howl.

Practically every club owner and every manager in the league has told this column that this season's umpir-
